As a Belmont resident with experience across Commonwealth, state, and local levels, I'm passionate about our diverse community, beautiful parks, and city access. However, we can make Belmont safer, greener, and more connected.

My priorities are improving safety through better street lighting and community-police partnerships; increasing free events like markets, festivals, and sports to unite residents; protecting parks, community gardens, and sustainable development; supporting local businesses by simplifying council processes; and advocating for enhanced school funding, youth programs, and career opportunities.

I believe in transparent governance, listening actively, taking decisive action, and keeping residents informed year-round. As a fresh face bringing new ideas to the council, I'm committed to creating a vibrant, safe, and welcoming Belmont where families thrive, businesses prosper, community spirit flourishes, and every voice matters.

Together, we will build a stronger Belmont.
