As a prospective Council Member for the City of Belmont and as a local grassroots Aboriginal man with strong cultural ties and a deep commitment to the Noongar Community of Belmont, Western Australia, I will bring a unique perspective shaped by lived experience, community engagement, and a growing understanding of cultural and community governance. My leadership style, and my commitment to Justice and Equity. I have actively participated in community engagement initiatives across Perth, including those focused on Aboriginal housing, education, employment and justice. As a prospective City of Belmont council member, I would bring a clear strategic vision that balances sustainable growth with community needs. My focus would be on driving economic development, supporting local businesses, and creating opportunities that deliver long-term prosperity for residents while preserving the unique character and cultural heritage of Belmont.

Additional Information

I believe Belmont needs a council that looks beyond the immediate and plans confidently for the future. My strategic vision is about setting priorities that drive long-term prosperity, sustainability, and growth ensuring that the decisions we make today will benefit our community for years to come.

Economic Development

I am committed to strengthening Belmonts economy by supporting local businesses, encouraging innovation, and attracting new investment opportunities. Economic development, for me, is about creating jobs, enhancing small business resilience, and ensuring our city grows in a way that is vibrant, inclusive, and future-ready.

Community Needs

At the heart of every decision must be the well-being of residents. I will focus on services and programs that respond to community needs from affordable housing and safe public spaces, to youth engagement and senior support. My priority is to balance financial responsibility with liveability, so Belmont remains a place where people are proud to live, work, and raise families.

Cultural Heritage

Belmonts identity is shaped by its rich cultural heritage, and it is essential we protect and celebrate it. I will work to ensure Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander voices are recognised and respected, while also honouring the diverse cultures that make up our city. Preserving our heritage is not only about history, but about fostering pride, unity, and belonging in our community.
